

UCNSB Records Exemption Request

Exemptions below can be found in the Florida Statutes indicated. Claiming an exemption does not mean the entire record is exempt. It means that home addresses, phone numbers, photographs and places of employment of you and/or your spouse and children, if in the record, may be redacted (blacked out) before the record is released for inspection or copying. In most cases, names will NOT be exempt (the categories in which they will be are noted below). Prior to claiming an exemption, please review the associated Florida Statue to understand your specific exemption(s) you are requesting the U.C. to maintain. Please understand that this form is a public record and if a request is made for this record, exemptions allowed by law would be redacted prior to release.
